Kennebec Savings Bank Announces Hire of Dan Swindler

Dan Swindler fills role of Chief Banking Operations Officer

Augusta, ME – Kennebec Savings Bank President and CEO Andrew Silsby recently announced the hire of Dan Swindler as Chief Banking Operations Officer. In his role, Dan will oversee Deposit Operations; Card Services; Branch Operations; Business Account Management; Customer Care and Experience; Vendor and Project Management; and Physical Security.

Dan joins the Bank with comprehensive bank operations experience, having worked for another Maine bank for over 26 years, where he steadily rose through the ranks to his most recent position of Senior Vice President, Director of Support Services.

“I couldn’t be more excited to be joining Kennebec Savings Bank – a bank that is genuinely committed to delivering remarkable experiences for our customers, communities, and employees. I look forward to leveraging over 26 years of leadership in banking in Maine to support our commitment to operating as a profitable, responsible, and customer-focused community bank.” said Dan.

Dan holds a Bachelor of Science in Public Accounting and a Master of Business Administration from Thomas College. He is involved in the Boy Scouts of America, where he has served as Troop Committee Leader, Treasurer and Merit Badge Councilor. . He is Chairman of the Warren Scholarship Committee and has been a volunteer advisor to RSU 40 for the development of a long-range comprehensive plan.

“Dan is an excellent addition to our team,” said Andrew Silsby, President and CEO of Kennebec Savings Bank. “He brings deep operations and project management expertise with a full understanding of the importance of great customer service that will support the continued growth and success of the Bank.”
